

Contents

1 Our continuing love affair with alcohol	1
In the beginning...	1
Through the ages	2
More recently...	3
Key learning point	4

2 The unpredictable impact of alcohol on the developing fetus	5
Earlier studies	5
What modern day prenatal alcohol research has shown	7
Can drinking alcohol in pregnancy ever be considered “safe”?	10
Key learning point	10

3 Drinking alcohol in pregnancy in the 21st century	11
The global picture	11
Fifty years of confusing UK guidance	12
Key learning point	14

4 Working with pregnant women to prevent alcohol damage	15
A model universal prevention strategy	15
Talking sensitively to a pregnant woman about alcohol	17
Identifying the high-risk pregnancy	19
Key learning point	20

5 What is a unit and the use of structured questionnaires	21
What is a unit?	21
Using structured questionnaires	26
Management and reporting	28
Key learning point	29

6 Diagnosis and the vital role of the social worker	30
Confusing terminology	30
How FAS/FASD are diagnosed	31
Key learning point	35

7 Why diagnosis matters	36
The present unsatisfactory state of diagnostic services in the UK	36
Why diagnosis matters	37

Why diagnosis really matters for looked after children	39
Key learning point	41
8 How presentation varies with age	42
Infants and toddlers	42
School-aged children	43
Adolescence and adulthood	45
Strengths of the FASD child	46
Key learning point	46
9 What does not work and why	47
Traditional parenting techniques	47
Talking therapies	49
Being punitive and moving the child	50
Key learning point	50
10 Incorrect assumptions and what is really happening	51
11 What does work	54
Owning the diagnosis, or coming to terms with reality	54
Early diagnosis	55
Routines, routines and more routines, structure and consistency	55
Change the environment, not the child	56
Avoid long, complicated explanations and instructions	57
Manage and where possible avoid meltdowns	59
Share the diagnosis	60
Success comes in small uneven steps	63
Knowledge is power	64
Key learning point	64
12 Dos and don'ts for social workers	65
Appendix A: Delivering an alcohol brief intervention	68
Appendix B: Guides for parents on FASD	70
Appendix C: Support groups for parents and professionals	71
Appendix D: Calculating the units in alcoholic drinks	74
Appendix E: Professional guides to diagnosis	75
References	76